3. BACKGROUND AND LEGISLATION

Background

Codes of conduct establish standards of behaviour to be followed and define how individuals are expected to behave towards each other, towards the children in their care, and towards other organisations and individuals in the community.

The Approved Provider, Nominated Supervisor and staff have a duty of care to the children attending the service and must ensure 'that every reasonable precaution is taken to protect children being educated and cared for by the service from harm and from any hazard likely to cause injury (National Law: Section 167).

The National Quality Standard requires that staff are respectful and ethical and that 'professional standards guide practice, interactions and relationships' (National Quality Standard: 4.2 and 4.2.1).

Employers also have a legal responsibility to provide, to the best of their ability, a safe workplace that is free from discrimination, bullying and harassment.

Child Safe Standard 3 requires services to develop and review codes of conduct that establish clear expectations for appropriate behaviour with children including:

- how to respond to risks adults may pose to children or that children may pose to each other
- how to ensure the cultural safety of Aboriginal children and culturally and linguistically diverse children
- how to be inclusive of all children, including children with a disability.

A Code of Conduct should be informed by the service's philosophy, beliefs and values, and based on ethical principles of mutual respect, equity and fairness. Consideration should be given to the Victorian Teaching Profession Code of Conduct and the Code of Ethics and to the Early Childhood Australia's Code of Ethics in developing the code of conduct.

The Approved Provider must ensure that the Nominated Supervisor, staff, contractors, volunteers, students on placement, parents/guardians, children and others attending the programs and activities of St Francis of Assisi OSHC adhere to the expectations outlined in the Code of Conduct when communicating to and interacting with:

- children at the service and their parents and family members
- each other
- others in the community.

As an organisation, we believe staff have the right to a safe working environment and we are committed to introducing measures, through our Code of Conduct and Zero Tolerance on the Abuse of Staff policy, to reduce risk and to have procedures in place that will enable staff to manage appropriately an aggressive or violent situation should it arise.

All staff who are subjected to violent, aggressive, or abusive behaviour should report such incidents to their manager with whom the matter will be referred to the Committee of Management. The committee of Management will follow the Complaints and Grievance policy procedures. Where the incident is of a serious nature, the police will be called immediately.

Incidents of violence and aggression can have a detrimental effect on the staff member out of proportion to the scale seen by outsiders. The Approved Provider is to ensure that staff are properly cared for and debriefed immediately, or as soon as is reasonably partible, after each incident.
